

Season Greetings!

December 2010

Dear family and friends,

We wanted to wish you Happy Holidays, and provide a quick update on the Butler family.

Melissa works for the Borg (a.k.a. Microsoft in Redmond), making sure those many Microsoft internet websites are backed up, and lives in her little old shanty in Kirkland, WA with her cats, fish, and 3 roommates. Courtney is employed full-time with NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) and things are a little fishy (referring to her position at NOAA). She recently moved into her own apartment near Melissa and has an adorable kitty named Kaiya. Bri is doing well, working part-time with the janitorial staff at Brighton High School in Sandy, UT, and living in his own apartment in the basement of a group home. Chris is having a great time driving up-and-down the Wasatch Front, Wendover, UT and Elko, NV, fixing those pesky copiers for Xerox, living in his own home in Sandy, and recently obtained ownership of a kitten he named Dingus. BJ continues to work for Boyd at Dr. Gas and is living in his own condo in Murray. Boyd and Jacque are doing great as well. Overall, the Butlers are enjoying life and like getting together to hang out, hike, bike, sing, watch movies and Nascar, play Rockband and other miscellaneous games on the Xbox and Wii, travel and jump out of airplanes skydiving.

BJ, Courtney, and Chris hanging out at Mount St. Helens

Melissa waving hello in front of the Eiffel Tower on a November excursion with Courtney to Europe

Courtney performing disco moves during her first tandem-skydive jump in Shelton, WA

Bri having fun spraying his sister with a water gun at Boondocks in Draper, UT

Chris getting ready to spray his sister with water at Boondocks in Draper

BJ signing peace out while go-kart racing at Boondocks

Melissa celebrating Forks High School in Forks, WA (oh Edward! – referring to the Twilight Series)

Courtney in all her glory on the beach near La Push, WA (oh Bella! – referring to the Twilight series)

At least one Butler kitty had to make it in the Butler Christmas letter (isn't Fred adorable?)

More photos of the Butlers are available on Flickr at <http://www.flickr.com/photos/melbutler/>, and this Christmas letter can be viewed at <http://melbutler.com>. Please be sure to friend the Butlers on Facebook.

Have a safe and fabulous Christmas and New Year!

Love,

The Butlers (Melissa, Courtney, Bri, Chris, BJ, the cats, the fish, and other miscellaneous pets that hang out at one of the Butler's residences)
